

Demonstrator - February, 2012

Elliott Everson

Elliott Everson is an artist that has been living in Arizona most of his life. He derives much of his inspiration from the desert around us and uses colored pencil and painting to capture the textures and brilliance of the plants and animals. Each drawing consists of layer upon layer of color, to bring out the many subtle hues that nature itself provides. Elliott graduated from Arizona State University with a Bachelors degree in Art Education. Since then, he has won local and national awards for his colored pencil work. His skills include fine art drawing, painting and murals in graphite pencil, colored pencil, oil and acrylic paint.

His cartoons and illustrations have been published in numerous books and brochures including illustrations used in advertising and fund raising for non-profit corporations. Many of his commissioned works are held in private collections. He was the President (and is a current signature member) of the Phoenix, AZ Chapter of the Colored Pencil Society of America and has taught in the Valley for many years.