

JANUARY 26, 2009: Hank Richter Demonstrator

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, Hank graduated with honors from the Philadelphia Museum School of Art. After working as Creative Art Director for major advertising agencies, Hank moved to Phoenix and formed his own successful agency representing many prominent financial and business clients. Hank's first art venture was a professionally accredited sculpture of a Sioux Indian head, launching him into a successful and personally rewarding full-time art career.

Please go to the PAG News web page and click on 2009 January News to read more about Hank Richter <http://www.phoenixartistsguild.org/News.html>. You may also want to visit his web site: artofthecowboy.com

